The National position – ( Median Gender Pay Gap)

"In 2017, men on average were paid £1.32 more per hour than women, which, as a proportion of men's pay, is a pay gap of 9.1%. The pay gap has fallen from 10.5% in 2011 to 9.1% in 2017, but remains positive in value – meaning that on average men are still paid more than women." – The Office of National Statistics – January 2018

Style Acre Gender Pay Gap Report April 2018

Style Acre's workforce was captured and analysed on 5th April 2018. The following data illustrating the Gender Pay Gap in the charity was collected:

- The mean hourly rate of pay for male full-pay relevant employees was £10.61
- The mean hourly rate of pay for female full-pay relevant employees was £9.57
- There is therefore a 9.8% mean gender pay gap (rounded to one decimal place)
- The median hourly rate of pay for male full-pay relevant employees was £8.92
- The median hourly rate of pay for female full-pay relevant employees was £8.92
- There is therefore a 0.0% median gender pay gap
- The Charity does not pay bonuses, therefore there is no data to report on this

The workforce was then divided into 4 quartiles according to pay rate.

- The first quartile containing the lowest pay rates within the charity, consisted of 81.5% females and 18.5% males (rounded to one decimal place)
- The second quartile containing the second lowest pay rates within the charity, consisted of 80.2% females and 19.8% males (rounded to one decimal place)
- The third quartile containing the second highest pay rates within the charity, consisted of 92.6% females and 7.4% males (rounded to one decimal place)
- The final quartile containing the highest pay rates within the charity, consisted of 76.8% females and 23.2% males (rounded to one decimal place)

The figures set out above have been calculated using the standard methodologies used in the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017.

Style Acre's Gender Pay Gap in more detail

How does Style Acre's gender pay gap compare with that of other organisations?

The vast majority of organisations have a gender pay gap, and we are pleased to be able to say that Style Acre's gap compares favourably with that of other organisations.

The median gender pay gap for the whole economy in 2017 (according to the January 2018 ONS figures) was 9.1%. Style Acre's median gender pay gap is zero and therefore something to be proud of.

The average used to calculate the gender pay gap is the median; however, the mean often reflects the specific problem of a lack of women in high-paying roles. According to the ONS, the mean hourly gender pay gap for full-time workers was 14.1 per cent, compared with 9.1 per cent for the median. Style Acre's mean hourly gender pay gap for full-time workers is 9.8%; still favourable in comparison to the economy as a whole but still a positive value which can be improved upon.

Style Acre employs 56 men and 269 women. Support Workers make up the majority of the workforce and are paid at the lowest hourly rates in the organisation. It is therefore important to look at the quartile data and take into consideration the distribution of workers within the charity to help shed additional light on the mean and median calculations.

What does this data mean for Style Acre?

Style Acre has made positive progress in the last 12 months in reducing its mean gender pay gap and increasing the percentage of female employees within the top two-quartile pay rates.

The gender pay gap is useful in measuring pay equality due to its simple calculation; however, it does not include any of the personal characteristics that may determine a person's pay e.g. age, education, geographic location. Instead, it captures a general overview of how an organisation pays men and women in a variety of different roles. Caution should therefore be taken when making inferences of a cause and effect relationship from this basic calculation.

While Style Acre's gender pay gap compares favourably with that of organisations both across the whole UK economy and within the sector, this is not a subject about which Style Acre is complacent, and it is committed to doing everything that it can to reduce the gap.

As the Chief Executive of Style Acre, I confirm that the published information is accurate and a true reflection of the charities workforce on the snapshot date of 5th April 2018.
